

Explosive Info

Intro

In the world of Boomba, almost everything explodes! Things that don't explode, do. Things that normally explode, do as well. Things that are not meant to happen in vanilla minecraft and custom events as well, also explode.

You are a traveller from far far away. From a place called BoomPedia. A town that was cursed to face explosions everywhere their citizens go. So here you are. You don't remember why or how you came here. You only remember your people and, of course, your curse that was put on your kind by the gods.

At the beginning of the game things may look normal on first glance, but you will quickly notice some things are not usually how they work.

The game will stay in a "stasis" or "grace period" until you place down your first Bastion! (see crafting)

Crafting

Bastion

The Bastion provides a safe space free from any explosion damage to Block or Entities inside its range when placed. Players still take damage from explosions inside, of course.

The Bastion is meant to provide a safe where items, animals and farms are safe from the excessive explosions that will happen throughout the game.

Beware! Once you place the bastion, the game will start and the waves will keep coming, the game will get more difficult as it goes on.

BoombArmor

Explosive Sack

The story of BoomPedian technology starts by explaining their most ancient primal craft. The explosive sack was a way for BoomPedians to harness the power that for thousands of years has laid pain and suffering on their kind. by fitting creeper eggs inside the sack, they could use them to propel themselves around places.

They used it to travel around places. They used it for exploration and power generation. And also occasionally get bone fractures.

Launch Bomb

Like Cavemen discovering fire for the first time, ancient BoomPedians collected some basic resources and smashed them together...

By placing strong deepslate on each side of a basic tnt, empowered by a few creeper eggs, the explosion force is now piped upwards. Launching many ancient BoomPedians way high in the sky when they first tried it.

(And also causing the first massacre where countless people died from the fall)

Boomba Helmet

When the explosiologists in BoomPedia discovered they can enhance armour by exploding them (duh), they found out how to make like cool armour and stuff that isn't just heavy chinks of metal and diamond on your body. They started off slow, but soon enough the armour has become a pretty essential part of the people's lives. As they now can wonder and explore more explosive areas of BoomPedia on their own. The Boverment didn't like that very much.

Boomba Chestplate

Explosions never hurt the citizens of BoomPedia, they only tickle them now. that's because each citizen is given the pretty durable and protective BoombArmor. This Chestplate is the corner stone of the entire set. Even Babies are fitted with a tiny version of those almost directly after birth.

Boomba Leggings

Once BoomPedia explosiologists found out that you can also do the same armour enhancement to leggings and not just helmets or chestplates (For some reason no one thought to keep going after chestplates for 30 years), they all celebrated!

Shops had them in different styles and models and all sorts of ways. Once again, after a long time, the citizens of BoomPedia can endure even more explosive power!

In fact, on the 75th of Barbarous every year, there is a national holiday for "BoomPants"!

BoomBoots

This piece of armour was crafted not by explosions but by pure softness and tenderness of the land afar far away from BoomPedia! This angered the political leaders of BoomPedia because everything has to explode and shit. So this is like crazy illegal technology you have there!

Boomba Pickaxe

"Like, look at it!" Said one BoomPedian to his brother, "It's- It's so magnificent!"

"But, like, be careful from the exploding ores tho... You don't wanna mine too fa-"

BOOM! An explosion happened near the BoomPedian's brother and his body parts and blood and gunk splattered all across the place.

This is casual occurrence in BoomPedia

Boomba Sword

The Boomba Sword is pretty strong. You just discovered how to make this like right now. I don't think anyone in BoomPedia would care tho... (They're like.. really far away right now)

BoomBow

There is a tale for this kind of bow. They say someone by the name of "Bob Bloomba" was really bad at archery and kept losing to his friends in Archery duels... Even when Bob tried his hardest, the widest and closest targets were somehow invulnerable to his arrows. Everyone made fun of him at Archery school for this reason. They would draw targets on themselves and claim to now be "safe" from "Bob the Blind Bitchy Cunt"

Countless nights pass, Bob learned how to fit his Bow and Arrow with a form of highly explosive powder made from Frog Poop (Which explodes on Impact in BoomPedia)

Once he finally managed to make it work perfectly. He shot all his friends.

Somehow, the Boverment's response was to give Archery teachers more weapons...

ULTIMATE BOOMBA

This one is a finisher (literally)
